Structure of buildings

We will use a construction system of earthquake-resistant masonry structure, (Blocks, Steel, Concrete, Columns), providing resistance to any natural disaster, such as earthquakes, hurricanes, winds, among others. For this reason, it is one of the safest systems.

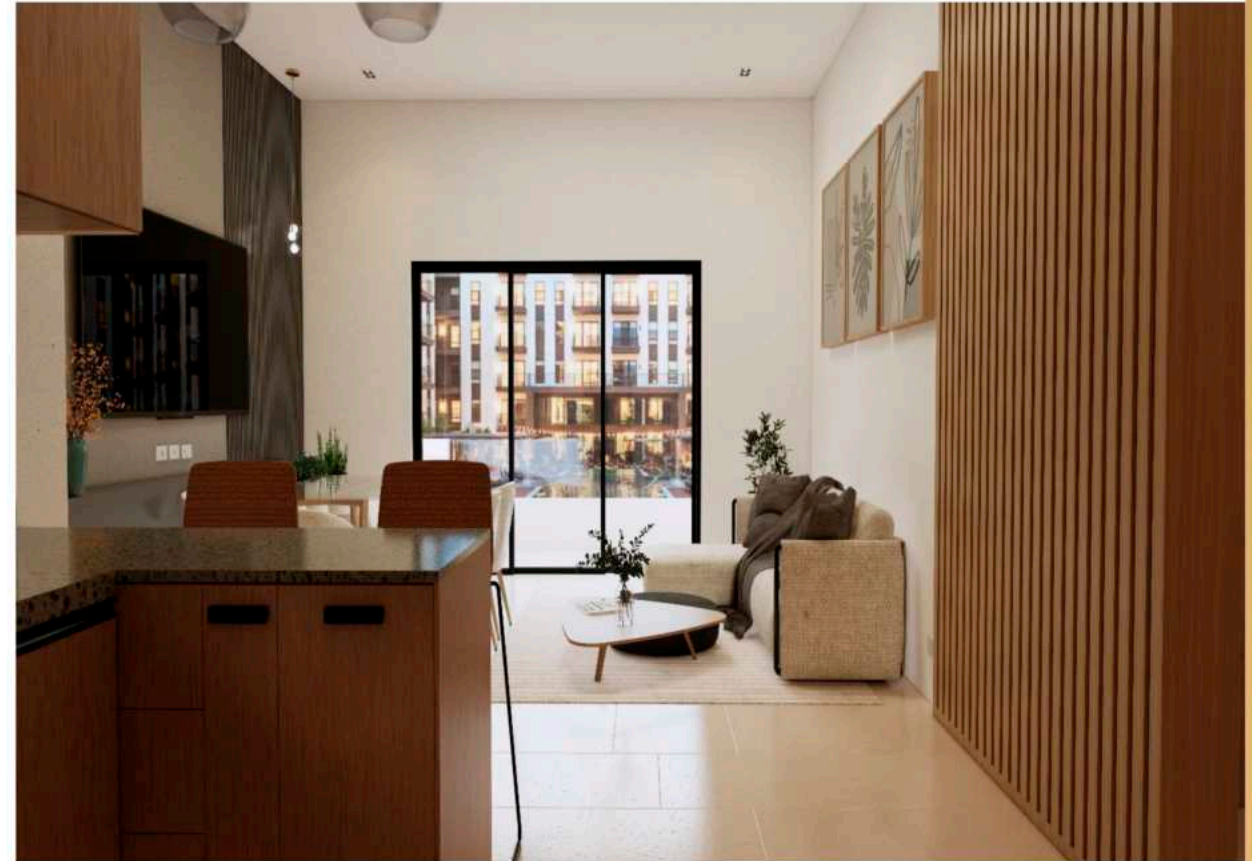

Reinforced masonry represents more than 80% of the current world use since its results are excellent and the construction process is more streamlined, it is a great thermal and acoustic insulator, which will provide you with safety, resistance and durability.

At Gold Reef Terraform II, every detail has been carefully selected to ensure a high-quality living experience.

Seismic resistant masonry construction ensures durability, while sleek glass railings on balconies offer a modern touch. The interiors stand out for their luxury finishes, such as imported porcelain floors and kitchens with natural granite countertops, melamine wood cabinets and pre-installation of air conditioners.
